The Florida Constitution and the Belle Isle Charter (6.06) calls for a reconfiguration of political boundaries every ten years. As the U.S. Census Bureau completed the latest census in 2020, Belle Isle must complete their decennial redistricting process by population growth. Since the 2010 Census, areas such as Brighton Park and Royal Palm Condominiums and some of Belle Vista have been added to the City of Belle Isle; therefore, it was necessary to adjust the District boundaries.

The finalized maps will define the seven City of Belle Isle district borders, and these new districts will impact how you elect your Council Members for the next 10 years.

Many thanks to the Redistricting Commission for their outstanding work.
